

Copyright Transfer Agreement

Acadlore Publishing Services Limited

The undersigned corresponding author has submitted a manuscript titled

for publication in the journal

---

published by Acadlore Publishing Service Limited (hereinafter referred to as Acadlore).

1. Copyright assignment

This manuscript, if accepted for publication, will be distributed by Acadlore as an open access article under the terms and conditions of the Creative Commons CC BY 4.0 license (<https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/>).

The copyright to this article is hereby transferred to Acadlore, in any form, in any language, effective if and when the article is accepted for publication. The copyright transfer of the article covers the exclusive right to reproduce and distribute the article, including reprints, translations, photographic reproductions, microform, electronic form (offline, online) or any other reproductions of similar nature.

2. Warranties

The corresponding author warrants that the article is original, has not been published before and will not be submitted anywhere else for publication prior to acceptance/rejection by the Publisher, contains no unlawful statements, does not infringe the rights of others; and that he/she has obtained any necessary written permissions to quote from other sources, and has the full power to make this grant.

3. Author rights

The authors retain all proprietary rights to the article following the signing of this agreement, excluding copyright. The proprietary rights include patent rights, the right to use the article's content in future works, such as lectures and books, and the right to reproduce the article for personal use only, provided that no copies are offered for sale.

The PDF version of an article created by Acadlore or an author-made version of the article may be archived by the author on his/her own website or in his/her institutional repository. If required by law or at the funder's request, the author may additionally submit this version to the designated repository of the funder no sooner than 12 months following formal publication.

The author may only post his/her version, provided acknowledgement is given to the original source of publication and a link is inserted to the published article on <http://www.acadlore.com>, along with the statement: "The original publication is available at <http://www.acadlore.com>."

4. Co-authorship

The corresponding author signs for and accepts responsibility for releasing this material on behalf of any and all co-authors. The signatory of this form warrants that all co-authors have been made aware that this manuscript has been submitted to this journal, that they have or will be provided with a (electronic) copy of the manuscript, that they have consented to be co-authors of the manuscript and to transfer the copyright.

5. APC and royalties

The APC of each Acadlore journal can be checked at https://www.acadlore.com/about/invoice\_payment. This agreement entitles the author(s) of the manuscript to no royalties or other fees. To such extent as legally permissible, the author(s) waives his or her right to collect royalties relative to the article in respect of any use of the article by Acadlore.

6. Termination

If a party materially violates this agreement and does not correct the violation within a month of receiving the terminating party's notification asking remedies for the violation, the author or Acadlore may terminate this agreement with two months' notice. This agreement will not automatically expire, and neither will any license that it grants. This agreement may be dissolved by the author or Acadlore with two years' notice and without cause after the passing of forty (40) years following the date hereof.

7. Miscellaneous

If the editorial procedure for the article is successful and Acadlore or its sublicense has agreed to be required to publish the article, Acadlore will publish the paper (or have it published) in the journal. Acadlore reserves the right to modify the article's punctuation, spelling, capitalization, and usage at its own discretion. The author acknowledges that the article may be published and made publicly available, with readers having free access to it. The rights granted to Acadlore under this Agreement may be sublicensed by Acadlore. Hong Kong law will be applied to this agreement.
